Dear Students,

The Higher Education Opportunity Act (HEOA) is a federal law designed to help students and their families make informed decisions about higher education. With that in mind, this law requires colleges and universities that participate in federal student financial aid programs to make certain information available to you including information related to financial aid, admission policies, campus public safety, student wellness and resources regarding substance abuse, student record privacy, student life, and other institutional information.

To make this information easily accessible, the university has placed these required disclosures in one location, which can be found at http://oir.usc.edu/consumer-disclosures/. Please contact the appropriate office identified in the link above if you have additional questions.

For a paper copy of any or all materials, please contact: USC Institutional Research at uscir@usc.edu.

Sincerely,

Ainsley Carry, Ed.D., MBA
Vice President for Student Affairs
